

SCORES DIE IN EARTHQUAKE

SENSATIONAL SUIT IS FILED
AGAINST F. C. HAVENSR. L. Dunn, Stockholder in Peoples Water Company, Demands That President of Concern Make
Restitution in the Sum of $4,209,600

Charging Frank C. Havens, president of the Peoples Water Company, and Ira A. Miller, his agent, with collusion in the manipulation of bonds of the corporation for the personal gain of the former and demanding that he be required to make restitution to the total amount of $4,209,600, for his alleged fraudulent acts, Russell L. Dunn, a stockholder of the water company, this forenoon instituted suit in the superior court against Havens and the Peoples Water Company as technical defendant. Dunn asks the court for the following relief:

"1. That the payment of $2,500,000 par value of said bonds to his Water Company to defendant F. C. Havens, and the payment of $948,000 par value of said bonds to his agent, Ira A. Miller, be declared void and of no effect.

"2. That defendant F. C. Havens be required to deliver to a commissioner or receiver to be appointed by the court all the first mortgage bonds, together with coupons numbered nine (9) to sixty (60) inclusive attached to each bond, issued or paid to defendant F. C. Havens on February 28, 1907, and issued or paid to his agent, Ira A. Miller, on May 31, 1907, and that said bonds be ordered delivered to the trustees under the bond mortgage on proper proof being made to the court of such trusteeship.

"3. That in default of the delivery of said bonds to said commissioner or receiver as aforesaid, judgment be rendered in favor of said Peoples Water Company and against F. C. Havens for the sum of $8,508,000, the value of said bonds at the dates of issue to said defendant, F. C. Havens.

"4. That a further judgment be rendered in favor of the Peoples Water Company and against said defendant F. C. Havens, for the sum of $701,600 paid in redemption of interest coupons numbered one (1) to eight (8) inclusive of each of said bonds or issued to said defendant F. C. Havens. "5. For such other and further relief as to the court may seem proper."

GOES INTO DETAILS.

Going into the details of Havens' alleged fraudulent manipulation of the bonds in question, Dunn, through Attorney James W. Scott of San Francisco, sets forth that Havens was the principal promoter, and organizer of the Peoples Water Company and that since its incorporation in July, 1906, has owned and held a majority of the shares of the capital stock of the concern; that he is in control of the corporation, and of its board of directors, officers, agents and employees, and that during 1906-07, when the alleged frauds were perpetrated, Havens was treasurer of the corporation.

Dunn charges that in 1906 Havens, as treasurer of the Peoples Water Company, bought for the corporation the lands, premises and property it then acquired, for which the company paid in full, and sets forth that January 2, 1907, the corporation executed to the Mercantile Trust Company of San Francisco a deed of trust to secure the payment of 20,000 bonds, each in the sum of $1000, and interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum.

DEED IS FILED.

This deed of trust was filed in the office of the county recorder of Alameda county February 2, 1907, and the complaint says that on the 28th day of the same month the Peoples Water Company issued in its corporate name and delivered to Havens 2500 of these trust bonds, annexed to each of which were sixty coupons numbered one to sixty, inclusive. The value of said bonds at the dates of issue to said defendant, F. C. Havens, was $2,500,000. The issuance of these bonds, the complaint alleges, was without consideration, delivery being made under and by reason of false representations of Havens and his agents that the bonds were a part of the purchase price of the lands, premises and properties of the water company, and that the real facts regarding the issuance and delivery were concealed from the stockholders and bondholders of the corporation, Havens throughout these transactions being treasurer of the Peoples Water Company. The corporation, Dunn, continues, has paid, as they became due, the interest coupons attached to the bonds, the total amount of the interest so paid being $701,600.

REPRESENTS STOCKHOLDERS.

Dunn says that while he is a shareholder of the Peoples Water Company, he brings this action not only for the benefit of himself, but of all other shareholders of the corporation who may desire to intervene in the action and share the expense thereof. He says that the shareholders are so numerous that it is impracticable to bring them all before the court as parties plaintiff in the suit. He also says that he has made no demand upon the Peoples Water Company, or the present board of directors, to bring this action, for the reason that Havens is at present a director of the concern, and is president thereof; and for the further reason that each and all of the other members of the board of directors were elected as members thereof at the instance of Havens, and represent his interests upon the board. Dunn charges that the directors are acting in conjunction with Havens, and have been at all times since their election under his direction and control, and that for this reason demand upon that source to institute suit would have been a futile and useless act.

Dunn is a consulting engineer and has offices at 625 Market street, San Francisco. Attached to his complaint is an exhibit in which are set forth by description and in detail the various properties of the Peoples Water Company.

Action

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—A writ of prohibition was granted by Superior Judge Sewall this morning restraining the board of police commissioners from trying Chief Seymour at 2 o'clock this afternoon on charges of neglect of duty preferred by Captain O'Day. The writ was prayed for by attorneys for the chief on the ground that a complaint drawn up and verified was the only allegation against the accused officer, and it was requested that it be made returnable on Friday.

Attached to the application was a list of the charges brought by O'Day and Judge Sewall, on request, promptly granted the petition. This effectually restrains the commissioners from going ahead until after the entire litigation is threshed out in department No. 1 of the superior court Friday afternoon.

WHITE NOT PARTY.

The writ is directed against Max Goldberg, Isaac Spiro, J. Frank Jewell and Lawrence Flaherty, the members of the board. D. A. White, the acting chief, appointed over Seymour's head, was not made a party to the action. Attorney Bell announced, following the granting of the writ of prohibition, that no attempt would be made to proceed with the trial this afternoon and no further legal steps taken to have the court's order amended or

His Advent to City With

Carriage Through Streets
En Masse

MEXICO CITY, June 7.—Amid the wildest enthusiasm Francisco I. Madero Jr. today entered the capital of the government which he overthrew.

The demonstration was the greatest which the City of Mexico has known in a generation. Business was practically suspended and the streets through which the revolutionary leader made his triumphal way were gay with flags, bunting and flowers, while from the throats of tens of thousands came roars of acclaim.

The noisy welcome began when the great crowd at the railway station first caught sight of the bearded face and stocky figure of Madero as he emerged from his private car and stepped quickly into a waiting carriage. Shouts of "Viva Madero" swelled into a great chorus as the cry was taken up along the streets leading from the railway station through out the city.

PROLONGED OVATION.

Bowing and smiling to the right and left, Madero was driven through the streets to the national palace, and then to the home of his father at Berlin and Liverpool streets. The crowds fell in behind as the carriage passed, until a noisy but friendly procession had formed. Quads of societies, political organizations, women in carriages and soldiers in parade uniform moved to the quickstep music of the military bands.

It was a spectacle stirring and unusual.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The Senate finance committee considered the Canadian reciprocity bill in executive session today and then adjourned until tomorrow without reaching a decision. Lodge moved that the bill be reported favorably. Heyburn moved that it be reported adversely. Secretary Knox, summoned in person to answer questions in regard to the Root amendment to the paper and wood pulp section, insisted that the committee could judge as well as he what the effect of the amendment would be. Knox, it is understood, reiterated the contention of the administration that amendments to the reciprocity measure would be fatal to it.

FAIRFIELD, Conn., June 7.—One of the most disastrous freight wrecks in the history of the New Haven railroad occurred near here early today, when four freight trains piled into each other, killing five men and injuring at least seven, two fatally, and leaving two unaccounted for. The dead:

ROBERT GATES, fireman, London.
ROBERT BEACHY, engineer, London.

—HOFEMAN, brakeman.
WILLIAM LAURIE, engineer, Hartford, Conn.

A fireman, name unknown, scalded to death. The accident happened a few minutes after midnight in an isolated spot. The trains in the wreck were three extras and the regular New York fast freight. One of the extras jumped the eastbound track and crashed into a second train, which was passing on the westbound track. Trains running behind each of the two extras crashed into the wreckage almost immediately.

CRASH ON CRASH.

Crash followed crash. Two boilers exploded simultaneously and the wreckage caught fire.

An ambulance and a train load of physicians, nurses and police were sent from Bridgeport to care for the wounded, who, as fast as they were taken from beneath the cars were sent to Bridgeport hospitals.

In a statement given out the accident was attributed to the failure of an engineer to observe a signal. The statement adds that the culpable engineer probably is among those who were killed.

Several persons were killed through the collapse of the building occupied by the National Street Railway power plant.

At Buena Vista the railroad tracks were twisted.

The shock was followed by an explosion of gas at the armory barracks, which added horror to the scene.

FISSURES IN STREETS

The movement of the oscillations were from north to south and great fissures were opened in the streets. The adobe houses crumbled, but the dead in these cannot be numbered at present.

The shock was most severely felt in the western part of the city, although the buildings in the central part of the capital were rocked.

The only foreigner reported killed was a Chinese.

EL CENTRO, Cal., June 7.—Search for the body of William Burger, a veteran prospector who had been lost on the desert for two weeks, was successful yesterday. Burger was found, dead less than six miles from his camp. The body was conveyed to Imperial last night. For more than thirty-five years Burger had searched near Carrizo Creek for a ledge of mica which he had once discovered when a member of a surveying party but had been unable to relocate later. He left his partner, Thomas Stratton in camp two weeks ago, and started to cross a distant ridge. When he did not return Stratton organized a search and the old prospector was trailed until his body was found within six miles of the camp where he had fallen exhausted and perished of thirst.

PARIS, June 7.—Senator Maurice Rouvier, twice premier of France, died here today. Rouvier became known early as an enemy of the empire. He became premier in 1887, taking office the portfolio of finance. His ministry lasted only six months. It was notable for the removal of General Boulanger from the office of minister of war. Rouvier was then at the height of his popularity and Rouvier's action was regarded as a courageous one. Rouvier was again made prime minister. He resigned from that office in March, 1905, on being defeated in the chamber on a minor debate over church disorders.

Santo Domingo was also damaged.

LAREDO, Tex., June 7.—Seventy-five or more persons are reported to have lost their lives in the city of Mexico as a result of the earthquake today and serious damage is said to have been done south of the capital according to messages received on railroad wires here this afternoon. Chaotic conditions are said to prevail throughout a large section of the republic.

USED AS ARSENAL

The artillery quarters wrecked by earthquake this morning is a long low building near Belen prison and is used chiefly as a government arsenal. During the recent disturbance throughout Mexico large forces of soldiers had been quartered in this building. It is an edifice of ancient construction and design and during the Spanish occupation it was used as a storehouse for war here this afternoon. At times it has been converted into a fortress and more recently has been used as a museum of artillery.

The Belen Prison is in the same locality. It also houses a large number of people, its criminal inmates having been at times as many as several thousand. The earthquake today came at the moment that the Mexican capital was about to receive the revolutionary victor, Francisco I. Madero Jr. Cable dispatches announced his arrival at the city and indicate that, despite the earthquake, an ovation was given him.

World Shaker Is Recorded at Santa Clara College, Cal.

SAN JOSE, June 7.—Father Ricard, in charge of the Santa Clara College Observatory, states that a great world-shaker was recorded on the college seismograph this morning. The record began at 2:08:12 o'clock on the east and west line and four seconds later on the north and south line, the large amplitude of the movement east and west being 2.02 millimeters and 13.6 on the north and south.

There was no record on the vertical machine. The total duration was two hours, twenty-three minutes and twenty-eight seconds on the east-west line and one hour, thirty-six minutes and two seconds on the north-south line. Calculation of the center places the disturbance in Eastern Siberia.

Cleveland Needle Trembles When Big Earthquake Occurs

CLEVELAND, June 7.—Early this morning the seismograph at St. Ignace College recorded the most severe earthquake registered in observation in the last two and a half years. LAWRENCE, Kan., June 7.—A violent earthquake was recorded by the seismograph at the state university here early today. The university authorities expressed the opinion that the earthquake was in Western Mexico.

Quake Is Most Severe Recorded in Many Years

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Seismographs throughout the entire country were jarred at an early hour today by the most severe earthquake that has been recorded in several years. It is estimated to have occurred 4000 or 5000 miles from Washington, but in what direction could not be ascertained.

Beginning at 6:05 this morning the seismograph of Georgetown University observatory began to move. The tremors steadily increased in intensity, causing the needles to record an unusual vibration.

The maximum of the north and south movement was at 6:22:05 and lasted eight minutes, while the maximum of the east and west movement was recorded at 6:24, lasting ten minutes.

Gradually the tremors subsided and died away at 7:51 o'clock after one hour and 41 minutes.

Seismograph at New York Records Earth Disturbance

NEW YORK, June 7.—A severe earthquake estimated at about 3000 miles from New York was recorded on the seismograph of Fordham University this morning. The beginning of the quake was at 3:11 o'clock with the principal shock seven minutes later.

The direction the quake was on lines from east to west was noted at the time of the San Francisco earthquake and there were slight movements also from north to south.

Professor Tiznan of Fordham said the earthquake was the heaviest that had been recorded at Fordham in a long time. He thought the center of the quake was about 2500 to 3000 miles away, but what direction he could not say.

EVERYTHING IN READINESS FOR OPENING OF SAN LEANDRO CHERRY CARNIVAL

Group of Alameda Boosters Who Take Part in the San Leandro Cherry Festival June 9-10; D. C. Moore, Chief of Clowns

SAN LEANDRO, June 7.—With the king and queen selected, San Leandro now awaits the arrival of visitors from all parts of the county to take part in the gigantic festival of cherries to be held next Friday and Saturday. It is now up to Mayor J. J. Gill to start the ball rolling when he presses the electric button in the city hall, which will make the city blaze with light.

Boosters from the chamber of commerce and the city council of Alameda paid a visit to the committee in charge of the affairs this week and made arrangements for a great display of the products of the "Ducinal City" in the parade, and it is probable that a permanent display will be set up in some prominent place in the town. D. C. Moore, chief of the carnival clowns, has his men well trained, and will entertain the crowds. Fully forty of these wide-trousered, white-faced funny men will be scattered throughout the line of parade.

Queen Mabel and King Alonso will be escorted and attended by the grand marshal on his aids alone, the formalities of several maids of honor being done away with. The committee in charge of the arrangements and decorations, with most of the work over, is now resting on its oars and waiting for the big day.

PEOPLE HAIL MADERO AS THEIR LIBERATOR

Advent of Chieftain to Capital of Mexico Occasion of Monster Outpouring of Populace but amid the popular rejoicing could be detected an undercurrent of resentment on the part of the unreconciled aristocracy that looked on silent though not unmoved.

PLOTTERS ARRESTED. Rumors of plots against the life of the hero of the day were rife, as were reports that secret arrests had been made. Antonio Villacencio, former chief of police, was taken into custody last night. Immunity as to the members of the house of deputies is said to have stayed the arm of the law against others alleged to have been implicated in a plot, the discovery of which was followed by the arrest of W. L. Dunn, an American at Monterey, and Daniel de Villiers, former police head. These two men are accused of being at the head of the plotters.

Madero's special train was preceded to the capital by a score of other trains, which went up the line yesterday to participate in the demonstration en route and escort the rebel general to the city. On alighting from his car here Madero was greeted by Senor Aguelas Serran, one of the heroes of the rebellion, who handed him a laurel wreath.

WIDOW OF MARTYR. Senora Serran is the widow of one of the first of the revolutionary conspirators to lose their lives. Senor Serran's home in Puebla, in preparation for the revolt, was used as a storehouse for rifles and ammunition. The secret was discovered by the government and Serran was killed in defending his home. When the husband fell, his wife and her two sisters seized rifles and continued the resistance until they were overpowered. The two women were thrown into jail, where they languished for months.

With the triumph of the Madero party a Serran society was formed here and Senora Serran was brought to the capital to greet the man for whose cause she and her family had suffered. The little woman tendered the wreath without a word. What Madero replied could not be heard above the din that greeted the incident.

"ORDER" READS BANNER. A brief address of welcome was made by Dr. Cuthbert Hidalgo, after which a banner was formed. The various bodies participating had been at the rendezvous since daybreak and each had been assigned a position in the line, into which it fell at the proper moment. Banners bearing Madero's likeness were everywhere mingled with the national colors and slogans of the revolution. Looming larger than all others were banners bearing the single word, "Order." These were intended to influence the populace to restrain its more turbulent impulses. Shopkeepers as a rule were inclined to be on the safe side and generally the windows of their places were shuttered.

From the railway station the procession moved into Calles del Puente de Alvarado, through the Avenida de Los Hornos, illustrious and into the park at the national palace and thence back through the Avenida de San Francisco, the Avenida Juarez, the Paseo de La Reforma and the Calles de Berlin to the Madero home. Here in the two-story brick house owned by Madero, the distinguished conqueror of Porfirio Diaz, rested for the first time since the triumphal entry into the country was made at Ciudad Porfirio Diaz, now newly named Pedras Negras.

Plots Against Life of Madero Growing More Alarming. JUAREZ, June 7.—Indications that the plots against Madero were growing in fact and extent were manifest today in several quarters. The loyalty of certain heads of the federal troops has been brought into question and as a consequence wholesale charges in that direction are expected as soon as Madero gets into full touch with affairs in Mexico City.

Messages were sent to Madero today advising him of specific circumstances which are alleged to relate to a plot. As a result 1300 federal troops, ordered from Chihuahua to Lower California to co-operate in suppressing the revolution, are held there, having been summarily directed to remain at their present post.

The advice telegraphed to Madero were that if the federal troops got to Lower California the outcome would be doubtful. Meanwhile the United States has been the hunting ground of Madero's secret service men, who have been sent to New York, San Antonio, Eagle Pass, Laredo and other points to trail and report on the movements of plotters. A confidential adviser of Madero, who accompanied him through his campaign, said today: "Madero, despite his apparent indifference to the plots, is seriously concerned over them. The fact that he had to go to Mexico City under an armed guard mortified him, especially as it showed to the world the existence of a greatly-to-be-lamented condition in Mexico."

Madero, however, is fully determined to deal relentlessly with plotters and before the elections in October, it is likely that either the jails will be full or the careers of exiles in the United States will have become greatly increased.

American Colony's Fine Homes Are Wrecked by Shake

EL PASO, June 7.—A telegram received here indicates that many of the fine homes in the American colony in Mexico City were wrecked. E. N. Brown, president of the Mexican National railway, telegraphed:

"Eligible earthquake at 4:30 a. m. Several killed in the Santa Maria district. My house badly wrecked. All our American friends safe."

The message came from Mexico City over the railroad telegraph lines. Santa Maria is a suburb of Mexico City.

COURT HOLDS UP SEYMOUR TRIAL

Case Cannot Be Heard Until After the Coming Friday.

set aside. The attorneys for the commissioners, despite Judge Seawell's statement that the books and papers would not be necessary in the court proceedings on Friday, have determined to file a written application that they be allowed possession of them during the day.

MAKE FIRST MOVE. The attorneys for the board of police commissioners made the first move in the controversy over the office of chief of police this morning. They appeared bright and early before Superior Judge Seawell, and made an endeavor to get an order for the books and papers from Seymour's office. This was asked for because they desired to present evidence of a documentary nature said to be in the hands of the chief, when the hearing comes up on Friday. The court announced, however, that it would not be necessary to bring in any books or papers and also stated that no decision would be rendered on yesterday's application for setting aside the writ of replevin.

Regarding the bond which Attorney Bell protested was necessary, Judge Seawell declared that he would not ask Seymour to furnish one as he did not believe that there was any need for it.

LEAVE FOR COURT. Attorney Hanlon, who had been spokesman for the commissioners, and D. A. White, appointed by them as acting chief of police, then left the courtroom and together with Theodore Bell, began the work of preparing for the trial which is scheduled for 2 o'clock.

Attorney Peter F. Dunne and Judge Smith thereupon went to work accumulating their evidence for the trial which Seymour is making every effort to avoid. The present chief, who by virtue of Judge Seawell's authority has retained his office despite the police commission, checking every move on the board, is said to believe that he is doomed to dismissal and is therefore anxious to postpone the evil day as long as possible. Accordingly it was announced at the offices of his attorneys this morning that they would probably take steps to avoid going to trial until after Friday's proceedings.

WITNESSES SUMMONED. Meantime the opposing counsel are ready to go ahead and a large number of witnesses have been subpoenaed. Captain Henry I. O'Day will be the star witness for the commissioners, as it was he who swore to the charges against the chief in connection with the gambling and the arrest of young Whitehead, who ran down Jeanette Hellbuth. The actual trial cannot be concluded in one session of the board, according to Attorney Bell, who stated today that he presumes would require considerable time to present their case.

At police headquarters a great deal of excitement is in the air and much speculation is in vogue whether Chief Seymour who has successfully defied his superiors, will be able to avoid the inevitable and once more prevent the executive body of the police department from proceeding against him.

SLOSS PAYS $1000 FOR ONE DRINK ELKS' MELODRAMA IS GREAT SUCCESS

The San Franciscan Produces "The Curse of Gold" Is Well Played by the "171 Company."

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—Although the "Louis Sloss drink" may be extremely recherché in San Francisco's fashionable club life, it is doubtful if it will become popular with the proletariat, for such a drink cost Louis Sloss exactly $1000. And J. Frank Moroney is the one man, at the present writing, at least, who has had a sip of the Sloss ambrosia.

It happened this way Sloss and Moroney were members of a little dinner party at the Casa del Rey hotel in Santa Cruz last Saturday night. All had joined in a little antepandemic cocktail—all but Moroney, and his unsociability was not noted until suddenly there issued from his throat a heartrending groan.

"What's the matter?" and the guests all jumped to their feet in their solicitude for Moroney.

"Here, have a drink," said Sloss, fearing his friend had been eating unripe cherries.

TAKE IT AWAY. "Take it away," yelled Moroney, "I can't drink it." "Can't drink it?" and Sloss and the others looked at Moroney in bewilderment. "Tell us what's the matter, old man."

"Well, you see," Moroney began, his face pale, "at the Elks' Club the other night, Wellington Gregg, Jack Daniel and myself resolved never again to touch intoxicating liquors."

"We swore to each other that we would keep the faith and to make it strong drew up an agreement by which the first man to take a drink was to pay the other $500 each. That makes $1000 that it would cost me to accept your kind invitation tonight. Gentlemen, I am thirsty, but I love my ducats more."

Louis Sloss was silent for a moment. Then he said:

"The answer is easy. I will pay the fine. Order your drink."

The guests sat as if petrified, while Sloss drew his pocketbook from his pocket and wrote checks for $500 each to Wellington Gregg and Jack Daniel. So Moroney got his $1000 drink.

PORTLAND APARTMENT HOUSES ARE BURNED

PORTLAND, Ore., June 7.—Fire last night, originating in the Hanover, a fashionable apartment house near the corner of King and Washington streets, destroyed that structure and also the Wayne and Weaver apartments. The total loss is in the neighborhood of $200,000.

The fire spread rapidly from the Hanover to the other buildings, which form a cluster at the junction of King and Wayne streets and, despite the efforts of the firemen, soon the three big structures were a mass of flames. Other large apartment houses, including the King and Stanley, two of the largest in the city, are within a few feet of the burned structures, and for a time it was feared these would also catch.

WESTERLEY, R. I., June 7.—Charles Breen of Mystic, Conn., and William Pryce of Fendleton Hill, Conn., are dying as a result of injuries received last night when the two, trapped on a railroad trestle fifty feet above the ground, were obliged to jump for their lives. Green became entangled in some telephone wires, lost his equilibrium and landed on his head. Pryce made a clean jump, but sustained internal injuries.

At the depot the body was met by a large delegation of Masons, Knights Templar, Shriner, Elks, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, Red Men and citizens, who escorted the body to the funeral chapel, where it remained until this morning. It was then taken to the Episcopal Church, where it was in state until 10 o'clock, the hour of the funeral.

CROSSMAN'S WIFE SEEKS DIVORCE

Former Winifred Husted Says
Alleged Cruelty in Her Complaint.

SAN JOSE, June 7.—Mrs. Winifred Salisbury Crossman, formerly Miss Winifred Husted, an Oakland society girl, wife of Walter A. Crossman, a wealthy young real estate broker of Sunnyvale, and son of W. E. Crossman, the founder of Sunnyvale, has begun suit for divorce, alleging cruelty.

The suit is the outcome of the husband kidnapping their 4-year-old from the custody of the mother while she was dining in a local restaurant about two weeks ago.

Mrs. Crossman, in her complaint, charges that her husband abused her verbally and told her she was "not even good enough to take in washing." Young Crossman will not discuss the case.

The Crossmans are prominent socially and fraternally in San Jose and the suburbs.

AEROPLANE NARROWLY MISSES BRITISH KING

LONDON, June 7.—King George had a narrow escape from serious injury while witnessing the maneuvers of the aviators at Aldershot yesterday.

Captain Cody, the British-American aviator, had just made two circuits of the course in his heavy biplane and had started to descend from a height of about 1500 feet when something went wrong with the apparatus and the machine swooped directly toward the royal party with such speed that there was no time to get out of the way.

Just as the great air craft was directly over the head of the king, Captain Cody succeeded in elevating his forward planes and glided over the party, but so close that several hats were blown away by the rush of air caused by the passage of the biplane.

The king seemed undisturbed by the incident, but the aviator was so shaken that he was hardly able to step from the machine after landing.

DENIES GOVERNMENT IS AGAINST UNIONS

SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 7.—Joseph Stewart, second assistant postmaster general, addressing the national convention of the Railway Mail Clerks' association yesterday, denied that the government is against organizations.

"It always has been pleased with organizations beneficial and helpful," he said, "and it has always classed the Railway Mail Clerks' association in that way. It objects only to the character of organizations. Those which have been objected to have been those which through some misguided thought, tended not to loyalty but to disloyalty."

Stewart reminded the clerks of the government regulation that their officers must be in the service.

"PERFECT GIRL" IS TO GREET THOUSANDS OF LOCAL WOMEN

Excitement Is Intense and Great Crowd
Is Expected

Miss Margaret Edwards, the "Perfect Girl," Who Will Display Charms to Guests of Tribune

Mercy!
How the ladies' tongues are buzzing.
They're all talking of "The Perfect Girl!"
Nobody can blame them.
That young lady at the Orpheum has the entire town by the ears.
She's an Alameda county girl and we're all proud of her.

That's why THE TRIBUNE has arranged the Women's Day at the Orpheum for next Friday morning at 11 o'clock.

The mother, Mrs. L. Edith Edwards, of Berkeley, is to explain it all. She will address the 2000 women who will be lucky enough to get seats and will answer all the questions you may ask about how "The Perfect Girl" was trained.

It's for ladies only, for women only, for girls that are over 16 years old. Be on time Friday morning! Be a little ahead of time.

Come early.
The doors of the Orpheum will open to the ladies at 10:30.
There'll be a great crush, for "The Perfect Girl" will be there, in all her natural beauty.

It's Women's Day—for women only. Come early.
Beauty, unadorned, will be the attraction which "The Perfect Girl" will have for the women of Alameda county, at the Oakland Orpheum, next Friday morning.

That's a Woman's Day—next Friday, and the hour is 11 o'clock in the morning.

Then it is that "The Perfect Girl" beauty is to be the magnet which will pack the great vaudeville temple with the elect ladies of the city.

BEAUTY IS GOAL.
Beauty always will be the goal of women, and properly so.

That's why THE TRIBUNE has fixed it so that every woman and girl of the county can have a peek at Miss Margaret Edwards, without money and without price, next Friday morning.

You can come right on the stage Friday morning.
There's going to be a reception, and every blessed woman in the theater can step up, on the boards of the stage, and meet "The Perfect Girl," face to face.

That will be a notable event, a notable spectacle.

THE TRIBUNE believes it will be of value to the women of Alameda county, and especially to the mothers who are training their children in the way they should go.

That's why THE TRIBUNE has arranged this opportunity for all women of the city.

MOTHER IS PROUD.

Mrs. L. Edith Edwards, who is to speak to the ladies on Woman's Day is proud of her lovely daughter as it is possible for a mother to be, and she has reason to be proud.

What other girl of 18 could pack the Oakland Orpheum to the doors, night after night, as Miss Margaret, "The Perfect Girl," is doing?

"She has never been tired in her life," stated Mrs. L. Edith Edwards, as she gazed at her lovely daughter. "She never gets tired."

If Mrs. Edwards had designed her remark to attract incredulous attention, she could not have succeeded better.

NEVER GETS TIRED.
"But she must get tired sometimes. Do you mean to say that after she's ran three miles without stopping she isn't tired?" Why, she ought to be tired!"

"No," stated Mrs. Edwards. "No." And she stuck to her contention.

As for Margaret Edwards, esteemed by the New York Physical Culture society the most superbly developed girl under twelve in all the world, she only smiled in a sudden access of relief from her sober, bashful demeanor.

BEGAN EXERCISE EARLY.
Her rounded, symmetrical figure is topped with a smooth, sympathetic countenance to which modesty seems native, but which can fairly illumine its surroundings with a sudden smile. Her hair, that falls in luxuriant, ringletted curls over her shoulders, is thick till you get the sunlight on it. Then it is a brown and each strand shimmers golden.

There seems to have been few secrets to the method Mrs. Edwards employed in bringing her daughter to her present girlish perfection. Systematic exercise was begun when Margaret was very young, only a few months old. The simple exercise was taken unflinchingly every day. Greater than this, the exercise was always regarded as play.

ELKS ARE INTERESTED.

The Elks of Oakland are tremendously interested in "The Perfect Girl," because she is an Alameda county girl, and because she is "The Perfect Girl."

Tonight, at the Elks' lodge rooms, Exalted Elder W. H. L. Eynes will auction off a box at the Orpheum, the proceeds to go to the charity fund of the lodge. There will be spirited bidding, of course, and the lucky Elk who gets the box will be immortalized as the man who understood, and properly appreciated, the chance to witness "The Perfect Girl" as the official representative of the Elks.

Dr. H. N. Rowell, exalted ruler of the Berkeley Elks, has announced to his lodge the story of Miss Edwards' perfection, and the further fact that she is a Berkeley girl, so that there will be plenty of Berkeley Elks among the audiences at the Orpheum this week.

The wives of all the Elks will be present on Woman's Day, that being the time for the ladies alone, when women will rule the Orpheum and none but women will be permitted in the building.

Woman's Day is Friday.

Denison Declares Conditions Right Here for Health

Secretary A. A. Denison of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, has written the following letter to Manager George Ebey, apropos of "The Perfect Girl":

My Dear Mr. Ebey: Of course! It was natural to expect that the PERFECT GIRL should be a product of Alameda county; where else but in Alameda County, California, are the conditions so conducive to the production of the perfect physical type of womanhood? The climate, the out-of-door life, the opportunities for inhaling the ozone wafted in from the Pacific ocean certainly supply the elements essential to the highest and best development of the race, and I am certain that the New York Society for Physical Culture recognizes the pre-eminence of the Oakland type, and the Orpheum circuit will carry the news around the world.

Yours very truly,
A. A. DENISON,
Secretary.

She should not have succeeded better.

NEVER GETS TIRED.

But she must get tired sometimes. Do you mean to say that after she's ran three miles without stopping she isn't tired? Why, she ought to be tired!"

JOHN BECKMANN HAS DISAPPEARED

Wife of Oakland Man Fears Husband Is Victim of Foul Play.

John Beckmann of 3710 Market street, this city, has been missing since last Friday morning, June 2, and his wife, Mrs. Marion Beckmann, has asked the aid of the police in an effort to find him.

Beckmann has been staying with his mother, Mrs. W. E. Beckmann, of 713 Capp street, San Francisco, since a week ago last Monday, May 29. He was not working at the time, expecting some money with which to start up in business for himself, either in this city or San Francisco, and had been in the latter place looking over matters. He left his mother's home early Friday morning and came over to Alameda, to see a cousin, Mrs. J. N. Beckmann, 1917 Pacific avenue. He there consulted with another cousin, Mrs. L. H. F. Bormann, who is administrator of certain properties from which, as an heir, he expected to get the money necessary to start in business, after which he left Alameda for his home in Oakland. Since leaving Alameda he has not been heard from.

His wife does not know whether he received some of the money he expected or not, for Mrs. Beckmann would know left the next day for Santa Cruz, and no word has been received from her as yet. Beckmann's wife fears he may have received some of the money and may have been held up and made away with, for while a large man, he had only one arm, the other having been taken off at the elbow. Beckmann, however, is supposed to have left Alameda about 11 o'clock Friday morning.

The description given of the missing man is as follows: 28 years old, about six feet in height, weight about 190, brown hair and blue eyes, smooth shaven, right arm off at the elbow. When last seen, was dressed in a light colored coat and vest, either a light gray or light tan, with a striped, trousers, slightly darker in color, black derby hat, black and white necktie.

Mrs. Beckmann can give no explanation of his disappearance except that he has been foully dealt with. He did not drink, and was very fond of his home and family, which consists of his wife and one child, a baby.

WOULD WITHDRAW CITY HALL BID

C. C. Morehouse Declares He Made Error; May Lose Certified Check.

C. C. Morehouse, of San Francisco, who was granted the contract for plastering the new city hall on a bid about $16,000 lower than that of the next highest bidder, asked to be allowed to withdraw from the contract this morning demanding of the Board of Public Works that his certified check be returned to him. Morehouse explained that he had made an error in his estimates, and that he stood to lose $13,000 by the mistake if he executed the contract and did the work.

No action was taken upon his demand, and he was referred to the city's architects, Palmer & Hornbostel of New York. City Attorney Ben F. Woolner explained to the contractor that if the city was forced to readvertise it would mean a grave loss to the city in time and money, and that the law does not give the board the right to grant such a withdrawal from contract. The bid was $40,750, and the certified check he asked returned, $4075.

CHINESE SLAVE GIRL CAPTURED IN RAID

United States immigration officers, assisted by Inspector Charles Bock of the Oakland police department and a posse of patrolmen, made a successful raid upon a Chinese segregated house at 644 Harrison street, at 1:15 this morning, capturing Loui Wang, an 18-year-old slave girl, whom the federal authorities had reason to believe to be here in violation of the immigration statutes.

FOURTH WILL BE WELL CELEBRATED

Report of Independence Day Committee of Merchants' Exchange Is Satisfactory.

That there will be a fireworks display during the afternoon and evening of the Fourth of July at Lake Merritt, was assured the directors of the Merchants' Exchange at the meeting of the body last night. Also there will be boat races in which crews from Alameda, San Francisco and probably San Diego will take part. It is planned to have the daylight fireworks set off during the intermissions between the races. The report on the plans for the celebration was made by the several Fourth of July committees which were present. The fireworks will be set up from the stations. One on the east side of the lake, one on the west side, and one to be established in the middle of the lake.

Chief of Police Wilson was at the meeting and stated that the pyrotechnics planned would be within the law and that police officers would be on the job to keep order. The finance committee reported progress in the raising of funds. The orator of the day has not yet been chosen.

IN FAVOR OF BRIDGE.

A communication was received and read from Senator George C. Perkins, of Washington, relating to the proposed suspension bridge to connect Oakland and San Francisco. Perkins stated that he is willing to do anything to further the scheme if he is assured that the commercial organization of both cities are in sympathy with it. The exchange is used to see Colonel Bladie of San Francisco, on the matter, that officer now having the application for the franchise under consideration. Secretary Wilbur Walker had communicated with Senator Perkins requesting his support. W. D. Smith, of the Black Hawk Stables, was elected a member of the Exchange.

CONGRESSMEN IN TIFL OVER WORK

Payne Tells Underwood That Democrats Have Made False Statements.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The wool debate in the House, which promises to continue for a week or more, opened today with a clash between the Democratic leader Underwood, author of the revised schedule K, and Representative Seno E. Payne of New York, in charge of the Republican opposition.

Payne denied statements by Underwood that the treasury was in a "depleted condition" because of the failure of the Payne-Aldrich law to produce sufficient revenue. Payne also denied that the act referred to had proved an upward instead of a downward revision of the country's financial condition.

"The country got its information from just such false statements as this from the Democratic side of the House," retorted Payne.

LIMOUSINE HITS AN ELECTRIC CAR

Father of Duncan McDuffie Has Narrow Escape From Death.

BERKELEY, June 7.—M. B. McDuffie, father of Duncan McDuffie, president of the real estate firm of Mason-McDuffie & Co. of this city, had a narrow escape from serious injury late yesterday afternoon when a limousine in which he was riding skidded on the wet pavement and collided head-on with a Berkeley bound car on Telegraph avenue near Forty-third street, Oakland.

The front wheels and condenser of the machine, which was the property of Duncan McDuffie, were wrecked and the automobile almost turned turtle. Neither McDuffie nor the chauffeur was injured. The senior McDuffie has been visiting his son in this city for the past ten days, having come here to witness the marriage of Duncan McDuffie to Mrs. Jean Howard Schoonmaker. He was on his way to the Oakland mole to board a train for Santa Barbara when the accident happened.

The chauffeur was driving at a fairly rapid speed when the rear wheels of the machine skidded and in order to keep the car off the sidewalk he had to steer directly into the electric car. The motor-man of the car applied the brakes and reversed the power, but not in time to avoid the collision. The automobile was turned almost completely around and McDuffie was thrown to the floor of the machine. He was not injured, however. In another automobile he continued his journey to the mole.

METZ CONVICTED; JURY OUT 6 HOURS

Painter Is Found Guilty of Receiving Stolen Fuller Property.

Hyman Metz, a contracting painter residing at 240 Ninth street, was convicted last evening by Judge William H. Wadsworth of the receipt of stolen property, and will be sentenced Friday morning at 10 o'clock. The jury returned a verdict about 6:30 o'clock, after a hearing which lasted for nearly six hours, and it recommended the prisoner to the mercy of the court.

Attorneys Philip M. Walsh and Louis Glickman built up a good defense for Metz, but the jury, who were unable to overcome the overwhelming evidence of Metz's guilt that Deputy District Attorney Satterwhite presented on behalf of the people.

Metz was arrested last December at the time he was in league with two employees of the W. P. Fuller Company, purchasing from them at ridiculously low prices paints and oils they stole from that concern's stock. The employees who sold the materials turned state's evidence and testified against Metz.

JUPITER PLUVIUS COULD NOT STOP ATTENDANCE

Vast Audience Hears Free Vaudeville and Are Pleased With the Numerous Attractions.

Not even the continuous presence of Jupiter Pluvius and the merry shout and laughter of rollicking, romping children enjoying the merry roller coaster, adjoining the bandstand, could detract the attention of the many thousands who attended the free vaudeville. This feature of TRIBUNE Day at Idora was a winning number. Every available seat and standing room space was at a premium. By the valuable assistance of Patrick Conway's splendid band many of the acts were given greater vivacity and interest. Their premier band conductor, who was the way to every audience and every actor who has the trials of orchestration continuously confronting him for appearance on a strange stage. Every number from first to last was a good one.

The local theaters, the Bell and Orpheum, are to be commended for their liberality in assisting THE TRIBUNE in entertaining 35,000 appreciative visitors.

The local talent which also contributed its measure of talent are held in remembrance by the public. The vast attendance was especially appreciative of the work of Garrett Price, the phenomenal choir boy tenor. Master Price has a brilliant future before him. His success in the Orpheum makes the Oakland citizens doubly proud. Clear enunciation, perfect control and with true artistic temperament he will achieve national honors in a short time and thus reflect credit to his native city, Oakland. The other juvenile performer, Miss Violetta Kelly, in her perfect impersonations of Vesta Victoria and Alice Lloyd won the people. "Baby" Kelley will be heard from with favor in a few years. Her voice has great carrying quality and her songs win their way. Mrs. Birdie Calhoun of Sausalito, Parlor, N. D. G. W., in her inimitable manner sang two favorites. Her "Grizzly Bear" song, whose dancing by four of the famous dancers of the Eagles' show, won its place at once with the people.

Garvin Gilmann, accompanied by Miss Mae Reed and Miss Grace Darling, in "Auld Lang Syne" was an act of unusual merit. Here the versatility of Mr. Gilmann and Miss Grace Darling was shown in several impersonations. The act, "Lady Teazle," was well rendered and above amateur standard. Interspersed in the various parts of these impersonations were several beautiful solos by Miss Mae Reed. Miss Reed's voice carried well and her pleasing manner won its way. Her tone qualities are excellent.

To sing to high "C" amid all the disturbances at Idora Park last night, where King Pun reigned in every corner, is no small task, and to be clearly heard to the remotest part of the audience. The envious record of Miss Madeline Theron, a native of Buffalo, who is touring the coast at present. Miss Theron has excellent control of voice and pleasing appearance. The young lady will soon enter operatic and stage work on the coast and her success is assured.

Interspersed throughout the entire program Conway's band gave several fine selections.

NATURAL GAS FOR OAKLAND HOMES

Company Incorporated for the Purpose of Locating Gas Here.

A plan to supply Oakland with natural gas and lighting purposes has just been formed by five well known men of this city who have obtained a large tract of land for their purpose and have options on property adjoining. Their preliminary operations are being conducted with secrecy and the extent of their plans has not been divulged to the public. However, it is known that positive indications of natural gas in large quantities has been discovered.

Headed by C. W. Porter, J. E. Coter, a local contractor and builder and S. L. Klamet of the Goldberg Bowen company, articles of incorporation of the Oakland Natural Gas company have been filed with County Clerk John P. Cook. With them as directors are T. H. McMahon, an oil and gas expert of coast recognition, and N. B. Myran, a local water contractor. Coter and Porter pursued the completion of their arrangements that it was not until today that the news of the company's plans became known with the filing of the incorporation papers.

So quietly have Coter and Porter been been carefully tested and experted and is within the city limits of Oakland. Officers of the company today declined to make known its exact location pending the closing of several options they hold on adjoining land. It is known, however, that a combination of an oil and standard drill has been ordered from Los Angeles and active operations are expected to begin within a few weeks. Coter declares natural gas in commercial quantities has been located and can be piped to consumers as fast as necessary lines can be laid.

The gas strata which the company will tap was located by C. L. Coter of Red Bluff, with an instrument of his own invention called Terrestrial Wave Detector, with which he has successfully located oil, gas and water strata in different sections of this state—having water and oil wells almost a miracle. According to its inventor, the instrument has not made a miss in the last two years.

"When wireless was first talked of as a possibility, people laughed, and of course there will be many skeptical people who smile at the mention of my Terrestrial Wave Detector," said Mr. Coter yesterday, "but a good gas well within the city limits of Oakland should prove a good skeptical smile eradicator."

San Francisco Society

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—One of the most important events of this late season was the dinner dance given last evening by Mrs. Eleanor Martin, in compliance to the much-feted Mrs. Mary Keene. Miss Keene presided at a round table, beautifully decorated with roses and lilies, at which were seated members of the bridal party. A stringed orchestra played during the repast. The dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. Failure of the Hospital Bonds.

The failure of the proposed $500,000 county hospital bond issue to carry at the special election held yesterday is to be deplored. The voice of humanity called loudly for its adoption to relieve the distress of the county's helpless and indigent wards, but it was smothered, primarily, under an adverse vote cast by the citizens of the southern and eastern sections.

In reality, however, the defeat of the county hospital bonds was due to either the indifference of a vast majority of the voters or to over-confidence on the part of those who kept away from the polls in the success of the proposition, on the theory that the voting would be all one way—namely, in favor of the bonds, and that their votes would not be needed to accomplish that result. The deduction that indifference and over-confidence were responsible for the result is conclusively shown to be warranted by the fact that only about 6000 votes out of a total county registration of 52,000 were cast at the polls. In other words, over seven-eighths of the electors in Alameda county neglected to exercise their right of suffrage yesterday on a subject involving the strongest claims upon their humanity. The vote was so light and the adverse majority was so small that the supervisors would seem to be amply justified in calling another election at an early date. It is certainly not the predominating sentiment in Alameda county that its sick and indigent wards are well enough housed on the county infirmaries now in structures inferior in many cases to those in which the livestock on the premises is kept. It is a crying shame to Alameda county—one of the richest in the State—that its unfortunate wards should be herded together in attics, basements and old barns and stables.

That is the case, however. Grand juries and philanthropic civic organizations have exposed and indignantly condemned the treatment of the sick and helpless county poor. It was hoped that the authorization of a hospital bond issue would relieve the situation and remove the grievance. But the defeat of the proposition leaves everything in the air again. The case is so urgent, however, that some other method of providing early relief must be adopted, if bonding is deemed impracticable. It will be criminal to attempt to carry the large number of sick patients and helpless indigents in the county's charge through another winter in the miserable and crowded hovels in which they are now housed.

The complaint made at a meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday that a number of Oakland business men had crossed the bay to pay their federal corporation tax in San Francisco instead of making the payment in the internal revenue office located in THE TRIBUNE building, reveals an extraordinary lack of local civic pride somewhere. The location of an internal revenue office here was made as a convenience to Oakland business men. The location of other federal offices here has had the same purpose in view. When the federal government provides these conveniences for the transaction of business common interest and prudence would suggest that they should be used. It is the failure to fully recognize the value of these institutions to the business men of the city and to the community at large that puts the permanency of their location here in peril, for San Francisco never overlooks a case of that kind, but promptly starts the ball in motion to have the Oakland office abolished or transferred across the bay. Self-interest should prompt Oakland business men to safeguard every commercial institution within it against the insidious designs of those on the outside who are unfriendly to its progress and prosperity.

It is unfortunate that the communities lying outside of the group of east bay shore cities should not have taken a broad-minded view of the new county hospital bonding proposition. The defeat of the bonds puts Alameda county in an unfavorable light before the outside world.

The uncertainty of the political situation in Mexico is illustrated by the discovery, a few days after the resignation and departure of President Diaz for Spain, of a huge conspiracy to overthrow the new government established by Madero. It is emphasized still more strongly by the extraordinary precautions which Madero is taking to prevent an attempt on his life while journeying to the national capital, and by the fear of Abram Gonzalez, who has been appointed provisional governor of Chihuahua, that if he should now proceed to the capital of that state he would be assassinated, the conspirators in the plot to dispose of him having placed a price of $40,000 on his head.

Building Activity in the Business District.

The central business district in Oakland is again a scene of extraordinary building activity. The erection of the H. C. Capwell Company emporium and the excavation of the adjoining site for the $1,300,000 municipal building make the city hall block, bounded by Clay, Washington, Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets, a veritable hive of industry. On the south side of Fourteenth street, opposite the city hall block, the new Wilson business building is also in course of erection.

The excavation of the foundation for the seven-story "class A" bank and office building to be erected for the Security Bank and Trust Company at the northeast corner of Broadway and Eleventh street, is in progress. The excavation for the basement and foundation of a new modern business block to be erected on the south side of Eighth street, between Broadway and Washington streets, is also under way.

One of the most interesting developments in the central business quarters, however, is that which is taking place in the southern district. The Standard Brass Casting Company has just finished a two-story brick building 100x100 on the northwest corner of Third and Jefferson. A three-story brick warehouse has nearly been completed on the south side of Fourth street in the middle of the block between Franklin and Webster streets. The Scott Express Company recently built large warehouses on the southeast corner of Webster and Fourth streets. The plans have been drawn for a four-story reinforced concrete warehouse on the Donahue block located on the west side of Webster street, which is to be jointly occupied by two leading grocery firms, namely, the William B. Cluff Company and Wellman, Peck & Co. The building will have a frontage of 200 feet on Webster street, 100 feet on Third and 75 feet on Fourth street. The interesting feature in this latter improvement is that it concentrates the wholesale grocery district in the territory east of Broadway and north of Third street, for some weeks ago the wholesale San Francisco grocery firm of Frank B. Peterson Company located an Oakland branch on the ground floor of the reinforced concrete Butters block on the northwest corner of Fourth and Webster streets. The reconstruction of the Webster and Seventh street steam railroads as electric railways, which is now being rushed ahead rapidly, promises to be quickly followed by the erection of many new and permanently constructed business blocks on the lines of both streets.

These extraordinary building activities in the business district are naturally creating some inconvenience to merchants and the public generally, but everybody puts up with it good naturedly, for it all spells present and future prosperity and marks the substantial growth of Oakland.

INCOGNITOS OF ROYALTY

It has always been the custom of royals to travel under assumed names, but though their incognito is respected, most people know who they are. The King and Queen of the Belgians, who lately went to Egypt, traveled under the name of a Count and Countess de Kesh, and as this was a name not well known they were not recognized by most people. The late Queen Victoria called herself the Countess of Balmoral, the Czar Paul I and his empress once went on a long journey to all the great courts of Europe as the Count and Countess du Nord. The last King of Sweden, of the eminent line of Wassa, Gustave Adolph IV, called himself Colonel Gustavson. Queen Alexandra of England on one occasion, when she stayed in Paris, was under the name of Mrs. Stephens, says The Gentlewoman, and Queen Maud of Norway, when she makes an excursion often calls herself Miss Mills, while her sister, the Princess Victoria, travels often as Miss Johnson. The King of Bulgaria travels as Count Murany, while the present King of Italy bears the name of Count Polenza. The German crown prince and princess call themselves Count and Countess Ravensburg, and his younger brother, Prince August-Wilhelm and Prince Oscar, traveled as Counts von Lingner. The ex-Empress Eugenie, when she is incognito is known as the Countess Pierrefonds, in remembrance of a castle of that name that was once given her by Napoleon III. The late King Edward was known as the Duke of Lancaster and King George takes for his traveling name the title of Lord Renfrew. The name under which Queen Alexandra generally travels is the Countess of Chester. The late Empress of Austria always had her name entered as the Countess of Hohenems. The King of Sweden is known as Count Tugard. Ex-King Manuel of Portugal also was fond of being incognito and was then known as Count Varcelles.

A flock of ships a "fleet,"
A "bevy" is the synonym
We use for maidens sweet.

A group of cops we call a "squad,"
A squad of thieves a "band,"
No wonder aliens find our tongue
So hard to understand.

A band of wolves we call a "pack,"
A pack of bees a "swarm,"
A swarm of herring is a "shoal,"
So lexicons inform.

Our noisy aids we term a "troop,"
A "gang" of hoodlums they;
If of barbarians we speak
A horde is what we say.

A "horde" of oxen is a "drove,"
A drove of whales a "school"—
To learn the variants of this term
You've got to be no fool.

Twenty Years Ago Today

One of the prettiest home weddings that Oakland has seen for some time took place Tuesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Heaton, when Miss Grace A. Hewitt and Frank Miller were married by the Rev. Dr. Dille of the First Methodist church.

Among those present at a surprise party given to Ben Letter Sunday evening, at his home on Clay street, were: Harriet Laudecker, Dolphine Carl, Pauline Dreyfus, Fannie Friedlander, Esther Friedlander, Lillie Marcus, Lillie Goodman, Hilda Newman, Florence Lewis, Ruby Lowenberg, Berdie Schwartz, Beckie Phillips, Ida Letter, Hazel Steen, Mollie Trist, Baruch Carl, Louis Scheeling, Max Kusland, Sanford Eignbaum, Myer Lissner, Isidor Erlanger, Willie Jacobs, Julius Trist, Abe Newman, Charles Meertle, Sam Newman, Joe Schwartz, Ed Rosenberg, George Letter, Hyman Sultan and Sol Levy.

The following pupils of West Berkeley have been promoted to the Kellogg high school without examination: Josie Roller, Marie Klink, Byron Turman, Andrew Anderson, Annie Dickleson, Fred Wilson, Angie Sturtevant, Charles Hansen and William Murphy.

Articles of Incorporation of the Irmandade do Divino Espirito de Missao San Jose have been filed with the county clerk. The directors are: Joseph Lucio, Jose R. Silveria, Jose F. Favars, Manuel J. Rodriguez, Francisco Mendaca, Manuel Sequelars and F. G. Foriera. The corporation has no capital stock.

E. Lehnhardt today started out with a subscription list to raise money to pay for the Friday evening band concerts in the City Hall park, and he hopes to have the music going within a few days.

Collections of the money subscribed as a bonus for the new MacDonough theater are now being made by Arthur D. Thompson of the First National bank. It has been pointed out that the theater which THE TRIBUNE has helped make possible for Oakland will keep in this city at least $100,000 which is annually spent in San Francisco playhouses.

Sheriff Hussey has levied on the real estate in this city and county owned by Thomas Murray in a suit brought by Levi Strauss to recover $19,004.05.

Last Saturday afternoon the Placer County Pioneers held a re-union at Shell Mound Park. L. P. Sanford, James H. Gates, William Hollis and W. F. Norcross were elected officers.

GROWTH OF CRIME

It has long been a common point of criticism that the prevalence of crime in this country is due largely to an unwise spirit of tolerance and a disposition to leniency, as well as to the American anxiety over the preservation of individual rights, which is reflected in the complicated and cumbersome machinery of our criminal law. We have often been reminded that British justice is of a sterner and more uncompromising quality, and that the results are apparent. Yet now we are informed that even the British Government is not altogether satisfied with its criminal reports. During the past winter the Home Office issued a blue book on criminal statistics for the year 1909, in which attention was drawn to the increase of crime during the past 10 years and the causes for that increase.

The high tide of crime in Great Britain was reached in the year 1908 and 1909. For the five years, 1894-1898, the annual average number of persons tried for indictable offenses was a little over 52,000. For the five years, 1904-1908, it was 62,000, while for 1909 the figure was a little over 67,000.

Apparently, things are growing worse in England as well as in this country. The British report notes that the real increase of crime has probably been greater than is indicated by the figures, for there is also over there a growing disinclination to prosecute for the less serious offenses and a growing leniency toward first offenders. So the conditions are even more appalling than they appear.

It is stated that the "habitual criminal class" shows no strong tendency either to diminish or to increase, which suggests that criminality has become more prevalent than it formerly was in the community generally. Several causes are suggested for this state of affairs. For one thing it is noted that since 1898 there has been a marked growth of a strong sentiment of compassion for the criminal. This sentiment is said to have had certain good results, as in the mitigation of prison discipline, the achievement of a probationary act and a more tolerant system for the treatment of youthful offenders, but the public sentiment has plunged beyond useful reforms into excess.

Articles on crime and punishment, the report declares, are commoner in newspapers and magazines than ever before, "while the sentiment expressed toward the criminal is almost universally compassionate and often sympathetic to an extent that no previous generation has shown." Newspapers, it is complained, "give a disproportionate amount of space to crimes in which the victim is of high social standing or otherwise prominent. High class burglaries, ingenious frauds where the booty is big and daring robberies are reported at great length."—Providence Journal.

KEEPING NEW YORK CLEAN

The problems which confront a street cleaning department in any large city are many, varied and complicated, and each city presents its peculiar problems. In New York City the conditions are practically a combination of those of other cities because of its cosmopolitan character. The Department of street cleaning of the city of New York consists of a commissioner, three deputy commissioners, a clerical force of a chief and seventy-two clerks and stenographers and an operating force of 608 officers and 6638 men. Every man on this list is under civil service rule, and every man is entitled to a day's work as long as the appropriation lasts, and his services are satisfactory, and the city is entitled to sixty minutes to the hour of faithful service from each one. It is the duty of the commissioner to make the most out of the force he has at hand, and to try and raise the standard of this department by taking a personal interest in the work and welfare of the men.

The work performed by this army in 1910 was the cleaning of 24,000,000 square yards of paved area or about 1860 miles, and the collection and final disposition of 3,057,596 tons of ashes, garbage and light refuse and rubbish. A fair popular idea of these amounts may be had by putting it that the streets cleaned equal a street leading from New York to New Orleans; and the wastes removed equal a pile covering Madison Square Park and twenty-nine feet higher at the top than the top of the Metropolitan Life Building tower. The number of people served by this removal of wastes is, according to the United States census of 1910, 4,896,873, or about 879,000 families; making an average daily removal of about 8100 tons of ashes, 1100 tons of garbage and 600 tons of light refuse and rubbish. As a matter of pastime, the winter of 1909-10 brought thirty inches of snow, which gave the street sweepers plenty to do keeping crosswalks clean, catch basin inlets clear and fire-hydrants free for human use, while a contract keeping the sidewalks free from snow at the rate of removing 10,446,998 cubic yards of snow, which means work.

NO BRITISH FLAG?

There is great confusion in England as to what flag a chap may fly, don't you know, during the coronation. These quotations from published letters in the Spectator illustrate the point.

Archibald Campbell: Lord Inverclyde flies the union jack as lord lieutenant of Dumbartonshire. It is a sign and symbol that he is the lord lieutenant, Lord Crewe, it is asserted, said in 1908 that the union jack can be flown on land by any one. I dare say he may have said so—I can't help that. According to the heralds it is not correct. Flying certain flags is punishable.

J. H. Rieft-Carnac: The matter was finally settled in June, 1908, by a reply from the under secretary of state in the home department to the effect that "the union jack is to be regarded as the national flag and may be used generally by British subjects on land." But until then the Briton who flew the jack on land did so at his peril. In India, in my time, a cholera epidemic imprisoned in the cantonment jail a non-official who ventured to fly the jack. An archdeacon in South America who flew the flag at the queen's jubilee had to lower it on the demand of the British consul. And exception was even taken to the flag having been used to cover a coffin of a non-official who died on the west coast of Africa.

Another correspondent writes: Though not illegal, it is irregular and improper for any person to hoist the so-called "union jack" over any but a government establishment or official residence. The hoisting of the union flag over private buildings is, I know, common, it is probably less common than dropping the letter "H" and is quite as improper.

There is, in short, no flag that a British subject has an undisputed right to fly.—New York World.

CURES EFFECTED IN LEPROSY CASES

Dr. J. T. Wayson Declares the Treatment Highly Successful.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7. — Dr. J. T. Wayson, head of the Kalili lepers' receiving station, two miles from Honolulu, arrived in San Francisco on the steamer Sierra yesterday, and reports two absolute cures of leprosy from what is known as "carbon snow." The cure, according to Dr. Wayson, is simply soda water gas solidified into a "gel" of the consistency of cold cream, and having a temperature of 110 degrees below zero. This is being used with remarkable success. Dr. Wayson says, in the leper hospital of Honolulu.

Dr. Wayson has come to the United States as a delegate to the American Medical Association in Los Angeles. He has brought wax models with him and will explain his treatment to physicians. He states that it is not a new discovery, only a new application.

New York Woman Holds Door
Open As Female Burglar Passes Out.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Detectives are today looking around New York for a woman burglar who last night entered the home of Mrs. Jane Hall and got away with $2500 worth of silverware, jewelry and clothing.

The escape of the suspected woman was unconsciously helped by Mrs. Hall herself. Returning at a fairly early hour from a friend's home, Mrs. Hall met in the hall a woman carrying two bundles. She supposed the woman had completed some errand with the servants and held the door open and allowed her to pass out.

Once inside the house, however, Mrs. Hall was surprised to find several lights burning, while cupboards and drawers were opened and the room in disorder. The servants who sleeping soundly.

STEAMER CORWIN FIGHTS ICE FLOES

Unable to Land at Nome; 102
Passengers On Board.

NOME, Alaska, June 7.—The steamer Corwin, which arrived from Seattle with 102 passengers Monday, has been unable to make a landing because of the heavy icefloes and the rough sea. The Corwin went twenty miles up the coast to Olomom yesterday hoping to find a suitable landing place there, but was unsuccessful and returned to her former position off Nome. The shore ice is still noted six miles out.

The revenue cutter Bear, which escorted the Corwin through the ice, has put back to Cape Romanoff, 200 miles south of here, to await the steamer Senator. The Senator left Seattle June 1 with 400 passengers, and is expected next week.

CAMORRIST TRIAL GOES ON TODAY

Several Witnesses Called in Case Against the Accused Slayers.

VITERBO, Italy, June 7. — The trial of the 36 camorristas for the murders of Gennaro Cuocolo and his wife, which was adjourned last Saturday because of the illness of a juror, was resumed today.

A notorious thief named Santafede was called as a witness and skillfully recounted his criminal adventures. These include an attempt at burglary at the home of Former Deputy Zalmi in 1891, when the witness was arrested together with Gennaro Cuocolo, who had organized the operation. The booty at stake was estimated at $15,000, the witness said.

Another witness called to the stand was Villani, proprietor of the Mimi-Mare Tavern at Torre Del Greco. He described banquets held by the camorristas at his place on June 5, 1906, the day on which the Cuocolos were murdered and on June 8 of the same year. The testimony added nothing material to the evidence already submitted by the state.

DYING MINISTER TELEPHONED WIFE

Remarkable Fortitude of Rev. Cecil L. Marrack Is Recounted.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—A touching incident in connection with the death of Rev. Cecil L. Marrack, rector of St. Stephen's Church in this city, who was killed in a fire engine accident at Ross Monday, is told by Daniel Schneider, chief of the San Rafael ambulance and fire service, in relating the remarkable fortitude and endurance of the dying minister, who telephoned to his wife just before his death.

As soon as Rev. Marrack reached the kind sanitarium after the accident he begged for the telephone. The attendants placed the head of his stretcher on the phone table, and while one of the uninjured clergymen called Marrack's wife, another held the receiver to the dying man's ear.

'NOT HOME TONIGHT'

"Is this you, dear?" he asked his wife. She answered, asking what was the matter.

"I am here in Ross, in a hospital," he replied. "We have met with an automobile accident. Don't be afraid. I am alive. I think it would be best for you to come over here. I will not be home tonight. Goodbye, dear. And pray for me, won't you?"

"These were the last words his wife heard her husband utter."

He sank back exhausted with the effort and never again fully regained consciousness. "I never saw a finer example of nerve and endurance," said Daniel Schneider, chief of the San Rafael ambulance and fire service, in telling of the incident. "When we reached Shady Lane Mr. Marrack and Mr. Carroll were stretched out on the hospital cots on the ground. Both were suffering terribly. Some of the other ministers had fainted. One of them was seated upright gazing blankly into space."

Archdeacon John A. Emery, acting head of the diocese in the absence of Bishop Nichols, who is abroad, stated yesterday that a committee of the clergy is to draft a set of resolutions of sympathy for the death of the minister, which has caused deep sorrow all over the community.

SUFFRAGE CAUSE LOUDLY ESPOUSED

College League Holds Enthusiastic Meeting Across the Bay.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—The assembly that met last night in the Scottish Rite auditorium in Sutter street was the most auspicious of any that has gathered in the name of and for the cause of suffrage. Every seat was filled and before the business of the evening was in full swing over standing room was at a premium.

Last night's meeting, which was given under the auspices of the College Equal Suffrage League, was presided over by Mrs. Alexander F. Morrison, who in introducing the subject said:

"Woman is working for the ballot that, as she has entered into the commercial, industrial and professional life of the world, so she may now enter into the political life of the state for its civic betterment."

William C. Ralston, the first speaker, opened his address with a full confession of his sentiments regarding suffrage when he said: "I am an ardent believer in the cause of suffrage, and moreover, I know that you will win in the fight. If man could once be brought to believe that the political voice of woman would vitally affect the question of temperance in the state you would have their open support. On all sides where men discuss the question you hear the remark: 'If I believed that suffrage would affect the temperance question I would vote for it.' If the question of equal suffrage were put before the voters in that light there would be no doubt about the way the ballot would be cast in October."

QUESTION OF FEELING.

Mrs. W. W. Douglas, in explaining to her audience the antipathy that men feel for women in politics, said that their attitude is not a question of argument, but of feeling, not of logic but of sentiment. So used is he to the preposterous idea of woman in the home, her whole life centered in it and it one, that now that she is threatening to leave it, instead of a source of pride, he feels that the very foundation of his home is threatened.

When Dr. Charles A. Aked's turn to speak arrived he ably abetted Miss McKinney's efforts by assuring the audience that no sane man and no sane woman would ever realize the power of money they would give freely, so that many more meetings like that of last night might be held. He also spoke of the influence of women in political life as an antidote for the tolerance of crime.

In conclusion he said: "Men made laws administered by men have not been a field with her unerring influence toward what is meritorious as well as just, and what she can do."

A. H. Elliot also spoke.

WARNS U. S. AGAINST ITS ORIENTAL POLICY

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Charles E. Keedy of Baltimore, in an address before the first convention of the Federal Council of Lutheran Brotherhood, denounced the policy of the United States against the Orient. Keedy said the United States is teaching the Orientals, particularly Japanese, military and naval tactics and is giving them the full benefits of western material civilization without teaching them the meaning of the "message of Christianity."

The following officers were elected: President, J. L. Zimmerman of Springfield, O.; recording secretary, J. W. Kahler of Cincinnati.

TO SELL PAINTINGS.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—The work of valuing the 500 Russian paintings exhibited at the St. Louis fair and consigned to Richard Partington, Mattos, who set the figure at $20,000. The paintings have been in the warehouse more than a year, owing to a dispute between various claimants, and will be sold by the government. None of the paintings is of great merit, it is said. The artists are obscure.

HURT IN FOUR-DAY FIGHT AT CULIACAN

San Franciscan Declares That Stubbornness Caused Battle.

TUCSON, Ariz., June 7.—J. R. Plevin of San Francisco, an eye witness of the battle of Culiacan, has reached Tucson. He has a bullet wound in his hand and lost all his personal effects in the looting of the city. He says the four-day battle was precipitated by the stubbornness of Col. Morales of the federal garrison. Three thousand rebels demanded the surrender of 800 federals. Gov. Redo and Gen. Aguilar wanted to yield but Morales refused.

The federals were fortified in the cathedral, postoffice, federal building and Church of Annunciation. Redo and Aguilar being in the postoffice. Fighting started May 29 at 10 p. m. and continued four days. A white flag was raised by Aguilar and the rebels entered the city. Morales kept up the fight and the battle became hand to hand. Next day Morales offered to surrender if his own life were spared. The rebels agreed and the surrender followed.

Then the city was looted from one end to the other. The residents were enraged at both sides and demanded the life of Morales. Redo and Aguilar were treated but there was no feeling against them and later they were released. Morales and 41 others are still in jail. Seventy-five dead federals were counted in the street. Morales said he hoped to kill a few gringos and turned the machine guns on the hotels. It is not known whether any Americans were killed.

COLONEL WILL NOT SEEK NOMINATION

Meeting of Two at Baltimore Is Cordial in the Extreme.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—President Taft in his candidacy for the Presidential nomination in 1912 will receive the unqualified endorsement of former President Roosevelt, which will be uttered just as cordially as it was prior to the campaign of 1908. This is the best political news Taft has received in many months, and it comes to him in a manner that leaves no doubt as to its authenticity.

The information that Colonel Roosevelt under no circumstances will allow his name to be presented to the Republican national convention, was conveyed to the White House several days ago, but it did not become known until last night. That Colonel Roosevelt feels that the Taft administration should be continued was brought out partly as the result of the cordial greeting between the two men at Cardinal Gibbons' jubilee in Baltimore.

The information that Colonel Roosevelt will be found aligned with the President, rather than against him, was brought directly to Taft from Roosevelt by a mutual friend high in official life, who was connected with both the Roosevelt and Taft administrations in a capacity that enabled him to gain and retain the confidence, in fact, the warm personal friendship of both.

AWAKENS INTEREST.

The meeting at Baltimore between the President and Mr. Roosevelt was only incidental to the celebration of Cardinal Gibbons' jubilee, but it awakened the political interest of Taft's supporters, Congressmen and others in political life who saw the two men together. They met first in the reception room in the Fifth regiment armory, where the jubilee was held. They talked together there for ten minutes. They shook hands with old friends; they chatted, laughed and behaved just as they used to do when Roosevelt was in the White House and Taft was secretary of war. They carried the spirit of friendship up to the platform and, sitting side by side, they conversed in undertones through much of the afternoon.

PRESIDENT AND COLONEL MEET.

Roosevelt reached Baltimore before the President, and was waiting for him at the armory. "Hello, Mr. President," he said, in the high-pitched voice Washington used to know well. "I'm so glad to see you. I want to inquire about Mrs. Taft."

"Hello, Theodore," replied the President. "How are you?"

After the meeting broke up both men walked over to congratulate Cardinal Gibbons, and then the President and the Colonel, the President put out his hand to the Colonel.

"Good-by, Theodore," said he. Then he leaned forward on Roosevelt's shoulder and whispered something. They both laughed and the meeting was over.

GENERAL MILLS DENIES STORY OF PROSTRATIONS

WASHINGTON, June 7.—No wholesale heat prostration and no cases of officers calling enlisted men uncomplimentary names was the gist of a telegram to the war department from General Mills, commanding the first separate brigade at Galveston, regarding the long practice marches to San Antonio and return.

Instead of hundreds of men falling unconscious by the roadside because of the heat wave, General Mills said that 150 men in all were allowed to leave the column for various causes, not all due to the heat. Many of the men rejoined their companies before reaching camp. General Mills reported eleven heat cases in his command now. He commended the conduct of his brigade as excellent.

Differences in Taste Causes Trouble

HAMMOND, Ind.—It is more than likely that as a part of divorce proceedings in the Lake County Superior Court, filed by Mrs. Caroline Stauffer against her husband, John P. Stauffer of Hammond, Judge Lawrence Becker may pass on the question whether a man has the right to buy tripe, young onions, hamburger cheese and early June peas for the table, when his wife wishes olives, charlotte russe, French peas, lobster salad and Neufchatel cheese.

Because her husband denied her the right to get the daily menu and bought all the groceries himself, Mrs. Stauffer has sued for divorce. When Stauffer found his wife had begun eating her brought suit for divorce in the Elkhart county courts charging incompetability. Mrs. Stauffer asks for real estate owned by her husband worth $12,000.

GOODWIN SUES TO BREAK CONTRACT WITH FAIR EDNA

The Actor Declares Marriage Document Is Full of Irregularities.

LOS ANGELES, June 7.—Nat C. Goodwin, actor and stage promoter, late yesterday afternoon filed suit in the Superior Court here against Edna Goodrich, his former wife, from whom he was recently divorced.

and T. H. Dudley, president of a Santa Monica bank, to rescind the marriage contract he entered into with Edna Goodrich before they were married. According to the complaint filed Goodwin turned over $120,000 worth of stocks in different concerns, the Lafayette apartment house in San Francisco and beach property at Ocean Park. All this was later turned over to Dudley who was to act as trustee for the stocks and property. The agreement was entered into May 14, 1908, and the couple married November 18, the same year.

In the complaint Goodwin says he never consented to Dudley acting as trustee and he also points out a number of irregularities in the instrument.

By the terms of the agreement the property was not to be divided until the death of one or the other of the parties and the survivor should take all.

Goodwin says that the document will not hold because he was married to Jessie McDermott Goodwin when it was drawn up. He says, however, that he is willing to make any provisions for Edna that the court sees fit to order.

Heroine of Lighthouse

PARIS, June 7.—The attention of the French government has been called to a dramatic incident demonstrating the faithfulness to duty of the family in charge of Kerdons lighthouse, on the southeast point of Belle Isle-on-Mer, a wind-swept spot on the Brittany coast. Mateo, the keeper of the light, while cleaning the revolving lamp, was stricken by illness.

He continued his work until he was carried by his wife in a dring condition to his bed. The woman was unable to abandon her post or her four young children to seek help.

As dusk came on she mounted the tower to light the lamp, and returned just in time to hear her husband's dying words.

One of the children discovered that the light was not turning, and the woman, realizing the danger of disaster to mariners who might mistake Kerdons for other fixed lights, worked vainly for an hour to repair the mechanism.

Finally she set the two oldest children, aged 7 and 10, to work, throughout the night, with a fierce storm raging they turned the heavy lamp with their puny strength.

Her's for Minute

SANTA BARBARA, June 7.—"Will you please hold my baby while I get the train," said a woman to Mrs. Charles E. Sherman, a wealthy club woman of this city at the Southern Pacific depot. Mrs. Sherman gladly complied. A moment later the woman disappeared within the coach and another moment the train was aboard the train. Frantically Mrs. Sherman beat the window of the car, asking some one, any one in the coach, to take her unexpected ward. A big, good-natured trainman, standing on the steps of the rear coach, was Mrs. Sherman's last ray of hope, and when he arrived opposite her she rushed toward him and pushed the youngster into his arms with the directions to find his mother on the second coach ahead.

Actress Suffers Loss

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., June 7.—The $5000 limousine car owned by Miss Ethel Barrymore, the actress, was destroyed by fire while the chauffeur was driving it from the railroad station to Miss Barrymore's country home at Harrison-on-Hudson.

Miss Barrymore is now playing in the West. The fire started while the chauffeur was cranking it up after it had become stalled on the road. A backfire from the engine ignited escape gasoline. The chauffeur had his arms badly burned.

Girl Near Death

COLUSA, June 7.—Minnie Abel, aged 13, may die as the result of a walk she took while asleep Tuesday night. She lives with her parents on a ranch 15 miles up the river. She walked out of a second floor door last night, falling to the ground. Her screams aroused members of the family. There was a deep gash in her throat and she almost died to death before a physician arrived from Colusa.

Loses Life in Fire

PORTLAND, Or., June 7.—In an alleged incendiary fire which destroyed the home of one Oguo, a Japanese farmer, at Lewis, the two-year-old daughter of the household was burned to death and a seven-months-old infant was severely injured. The fire broke out while the parents were in a field near by, and when the flames were about to reach the house the little girl dashed the charred body of the little girl down on her bed. The police believe that some one, prompted by motives of revenge, set the place on fire.

BRANDED "FAT," SHE SUES...

LONDON.—Some recent awards of juries in libel actions against newspapers, in which the newspaper proprietors have been mulcted in heavy damages, have started an agitation for the reform of the law of libel.

Justice Scrutton, judge of the King's Bench Division, High Court of Justice, in a recent speech remarked that public opinion had been shocked by some verdicts given in libel actions.

"But," he added, "the juries alone gave the verdicts, and it is not always the juries who are responsible for the misfortunes of newspaper proprietors."

When a law of fair comment is thoroughly established he thinks newspapers will occupy a better position than now. An innocent expression of opinion, although the jury disagreed with it as fair comment, ought to be allowed, even though derogatory to certain persons concerned.

Although newspapers have to pay exremely heavy sums as the result of the decisions of juries, they are nothing compared with the amount paid annually to settle threatened actions. Hardly a day passes that London newspapers do not have to pay out large sums in settlement of claims for alleged libel, doing so because it is cheaper than fighting a case against a man who may not be able to pay court costs if he loses.

Only last week an illustrated paper paid a waitress $500 to settle a claim for damages based on a comic picture labeled "The Stout Waitress." A waitress in a city restaurant sued for damages for "ridicule," and the paper was advised to pay, although the artist was ready to bring forward the model who sat for the picture and was prepared to swear that he had never seen the city waitress who alleged that the picture was a caricature of her.

There are a number of newspaper proprietors in Parliament, and they have undertaken to urge a reform of the law.

LOVES AT SIGHT AT 80

ST. LOUIS.—Andrew J. Solless, 80 years old, a wealthy retired farmer and father of nine married children, living near Cairo, Ill., yesterday procured a marriage license at Clayton to marry Mrs. Wilhelmine M. Hodges, 35 years old, of St. Louis, after a courtship lasting a month. Mrs. Hodges, after the license had been obtained, said she wanted to show her daughter, Dolly, 17 years old, who is to be married in June, that she was not the only one in the family, who could get married. Solless was a color sergeant in the One Hundred and Thirtieth Illinois Volunteer Regiment during the Civil War. The couple will be married in Wellston today.

When Solless appeared at the license office in Clayton yesterday, he walked with a brisk step. When asked his age by License Clerk Henry Ahlers, Solless told Ahlers to guess at it. Ahlers put it at 60 years and Solless was going to let it go at that when he discovered he would have to make an affidavit to his age. Then he told Ahlers he was 80 years old.

While waiting for his license Solless told some of his experiences during the Civil War and to prove his statement showed a lump on his right ankle, where a mine ball had pierced it at the stage of Vicksburg. Solless said he had broken his right shoulder at Shiloh.

Mrs. Hodges said she had been a widow for three years and thought she would never be able to love any one but her

Mrs. Pearl Greth Finds Husband With Affinity

ST. LOUIS.—Changing a wealth of chestnut hair over night with the aid of three pounds of peroxide in order to escape detection, Mrs. Pearl Greth of Nashville, Tenn., traced her husband to St. Louis and finally had him arrested while eating dinner with an alleged affinity.

The husband, Henry C. Greth, 39 years old, while locked up at the Central district station, stated that he and his wife could not get along; that he found a companionable friend in the person of Mrs. Annie D. Robertson, the divorced wife of a Nashville physician, and they decided to come to St. Louis.

About five weeks ago Mrs. Greth, who is 8 years of age, noticed that one of the employees of the establishment where her husband worked had left at the same time he did. The husband had told her he was bound for Michigan City in search of employment. When she failed to hear from him she started a little investigation.

SHE BLONDINES HAIR.

Mrs. Greth decided to blondine her hair so as to escape detection, and after buying the three pounds of peroxide and using it she called on a Mrs. Bell, the landlady at the boarding house where her husband's affinity lived.

On a plea that she was seeking the woman for another reason, she finally heard through Mrs. Bell that the woman had come to St. Louis with "Henry Smith" and expected to be married in a short time. The letter from Mrs. Robertson, who is 34 years of age and they were living at 1028 South Eighth street.

The next train brought the wife to St. Louis, where she secured the assistance of the St. Louis police department. Detectives Sullivan and La Barge were placed in charge of the case. They found the couple had moved to 8901 Magazine street.

WILL KEEP UP DISGUISE.

Thursday night the two detectives and the wife walked in on the couple as they were seated at the dinner table. Both of them were taken to the Central district and locked up.

Mrs. Greth told the police she did not care for her husband, but that she wanted him to provide for their small child.

But in spite of this declaration, Prosecuting Attorney Howard Siders brought about a reconciliation between wife and husband in his office Friday morning.

He first had the husband brought from the holdover, and spent an hour talking with him before the wife was admitted. The husband said he realized his duty towards his wife and baby and would return to Nashville with her and forget the "other" woman.

WOMAN REMAINS INDIFFERENT.

Mrs. Robertson, in the holdover, when told of the reconciliation, would make no comment further than remarking, "I guess he knows what he wants to do."

"She will be released later." "Well, if it hadn't been for changing my hair I never would have been able to trace my husband and his affinity," Mrs. Greth told the police. "It did so well then that I will keep it blondined."

first husband till she met Solless. Then, she said, love sprang up between them at their first meeting. Solless said he met Mrs. Hodges while the two were looking at some property owned by Mrs. Hodges at 8413 Ridge avenue, Wellston.

Mrs. Hodges said she lived in St. Louis, but would give no street address, saying she was engaged to be married frequently.

The couple said their future home probably would be in St. Louis. Solless said he is the owner of farms near Cairo, but he has not worked them lately, except for an acre in the outskirts of Cairo.

While at Clayton Mrs. Hodges made inquiries as to what steps would be necessary to procure for her daughter, Dolly, 17 years old, a marriage license. Mrs. Hodges was told she would have to go to Clayton and make affidavit of her consent to the marriage.

SPANISH GALLEON DUG UP IN PANAMA CANAL

COLON, R. P., June 7.—Twenty feet under the surface and 250 feet from shore workmen upon the Panama canal have come upon the second old Spanish galleon which has been unearthed since Americans took charge of the canal zone. Both finds, the first made a year ago, took place near Nombre de Dios the first vessel was not well preserved, but the one just dug up is an almost perfect specimen of the boats used by the conquistadores. It is more than a hundred feet in length. President Taft has ordered the removal from Panama of the historical relics.

That other ships will be found a little farther out seems almost certain. Several spurs and beams have already been picked up.

IDORA PARK IS CROWDED TO GATES

The Great Mass of Humanity Makes Merry at Expense of This Paper.

Concessions Are Thronged All Day and Far Into the Night.

WINNING NUMBERS

The following numbers won THE TRIBUNE gifts at Idora park yesterday:

First gift to coupon 23,127
Second gift to coupon 7,024
Third gift to coupon 36,547
Fourth gift to coupon 6,328
Fifth gift to coupon 2,282
Sixth gift to coupon 33,310

The ninth gift was claimed last night on the stage by Robert Hoshino of 1004 Jefferson street, who presented the coupon calling for the same. The holders of the other coupons, on presentation of the same at THE TRIBUNE office, will receive their several gifts.

It was not until 1 o'clock this morning that the last lotter, enjoying TRIBUNE Day at Idora Park, retired from that place of rest, recreation and amusement. Yesterday, for the friends of THE TRIBUNE, was a day of pleasure at that famous resort. Regardless of the rain which fell at frequent intervals, more than 40,000 people availed themselves of the liberality of this paper for a day of unalloyed pleasure. Such a day has never been experienced in the world of amusement in this city. There is no resort which is intended to cater to the wants of the people in the way of refined entertainment and recreation which contains more features which enable this purpose to be achieved than Idora Park, and there was not one of them which was not used to the utmost yesterday and which were closed only after the desires of the friends of this paper had been satisfied at the early hour of the morning mentioned.

RECORD IS SET.

Yesterday, Idora Park made a record among pleasure places of its kind in this country. The immense throng of friends of this paper was handled in a masterly manner by General Manager Bert L. York. They were enabled to visit all the concessions for which their coupon tickets called, and without meeting with an unpleasant circumstance of any kind. There were order and system in everything. Every guest was enabled to see everything in reason and, as a consequence, retired from the scene appreciative of the executive ability of the management of the place as also of the liberality of THE TRIBUNE. And yet, the thousands who were present did not have to pay a cent for their entertainment. They were all the guests of THE TRIBUNE, and there is not one of them who will forget the fact for many a year. Great as the attendance was, had it not been for the rain which started to fall early, it would have been increased by thousands. It is estimated that the lowering clouds and the falling drops kept at least 15,000 people away from the place, and that, as a consequence, instead of 40,000 the real attendance would have reached the enormous showing of more than 50,000 people.

FROM ALL SECTIONS.

These patrons came from all parts of Oakland and the surrounding country, and train loads of them came from San Francisco. This was a sincere tribute to the management of Idora Park and the many pleasure contrivances which Manager York has provided for the delight of the people. Throughout the entire day there was scarcely a moment of rest for the carousal, the scenic railroad, the shooting of the rapids, the circle swing, the moving pictures, the social whirl, the auto racecourse, the mountain slide, the tiki-tiki, the laughing lane, the roller coaster, the miniature railway, the toboggan and a number of the great attractions on the place.

There was none of those which at all times, did not have people waiting for their turn to enjoy them, but there was no crowding, and even if the maximum of attendance had been on hand, the management of the park would have handled it without a hitch or any untoward occurrence.

TOYS SUPPLIED.

In connection with the admissions to the concessions, there were also supplied to thousands of the guests, free of charge, miniature flying machines which afforded the greatest amusement to the young folks—fans, and whistles, the last mentioned being used by the little folks to great effect, which to many ears was music itself.

Beside all this, there was the unrivaled Conway Band, which is considered equal to the best musical organization in this country. This corps of artists rendered one of the best programs which has ever been prepared for an out-door performance in the western part of the country. The music was listened to by thousands at the afternoon and night performances, and every number was cheered.

BALLOON ASCENSION.

One of the principal features of the day was the balloon ascension which took place in the afternoon at 5 o'clock. This was conducted by Professor Frank Hamilton, one of the most daring aeronauts in the country. He shot into the heavens with a jerk and with the joyousness which might have been expected of a man accepting an invitation to a good dinner with a coterie of congenial friends. Instead of taking his life in his hands, the great airship bore in large characters the word "TRIBUNE," which was legible all over the city, and was waited and watched for by thousands of people in every section, for the reason that it was known that from it would be thrown small parachutes containing gifts. The balloon ascended to a height of 4000 feet, but when half that distance had been covered the gift parachutes descended and were picked up in various parts of the city.

COMES DOWN AGAIN.

The aeronaut descended with his parachute in Bushrod Park playground and the collapsed balloon itself dropped in the western part of Berkeley.

Details of Sinking of Steamship Teach New York City.

The Captain and Pilot Under Arrest; Eighty Lives Are Saved.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Some details of the sinking of the steamship Taboga off the coast of Panama, a fortnight ago, have just reached this city. More than a score of the passengers and crew lost their lives. Eighty were saved. The captain, an Englishman named Campbell, who was the last man to leave the ship, and the pilot, Matthews, are under arrest in Panama City.

According to statements made, there were but three life preservers on the craft. As the boat was sinking, the second engineer and a Cuban manufacturer named Gregoire, though unable to swim, stated that they would not crowd

COUNTY HOSPITAL BOND ISSUE MEETS DEFEAT

Voters Refuse to Approropriate $500,000 for Erection of New Infirmary; Idea Lost by Nearly 250 Majority

With the precincts of Corral Hollow and Murray No. 94 yet to be heard from, the vote at the bond election yesterday, for the issuance of $500,000 in bonds for the purpose of building a new county hospital in Alameda county, shows that the proposition was defeated by between 200 and 250 votes.

The vote for the proposition in the ninety-five precincts heard from was 4340, and, against it 2342. In order to carry the proposition it was necessary that the same receive two thirds of all the votes cast. In so far as the figures as yet attainable are concerned the idea fell 172 votes short of the desired end.

The undertaking was defeated by the votes of the residents of the county, and it is expected that the majority against the bonds will be increased, though in a slight manner, by the returns from the missing precincts referred to.

FEARED REMOVAL.

One of the ideas for the defeat of the proposition is that the people of the interior parts of the county did not desire to have the hospital moved from that section of the county to the city of Oakland. They held that it ought to be as centrally located as possible, so as to make it accessible to them as possible.

They also feared that the establishment of the hospital in Oakland would encourage the residents of this city to continue the fight for the division of the county of Alameda, which proposition is greatly opposed by the residents of the country districts. There has been considerable misunderstanding on the question of moving of the hospital to Oakland, for many people were of the opinion that it was also the intention of the board of supervisors to remove the county poor farm from the place where it has been located for a couple of generations. Some of the supervisors say there was no purpose of that kind entertained, although for a variety of reasons it was thought that the hospital, because it would be nearer the greater number of people.

WANTED TAX LEVY.

There were other people who felt that the people ought to be built by a tax-levy instead of by the issue of bonds, on which a great deal of interest would have to be paid. These were others who felt that it would be more economical to erect the proposed structure on the present poor-farm site because that would tend to save the expenditure for the purchase of a new site. Still another excuse for the defeat of the project was that many of the voters were not aware that an election was contemplated, but that seems peculiar for the reason that the matter has been advocated and published in the papers for a number of days.

The vote on the proposition in Oakland was as follows: For, 2960; against, 1173; majority, 1789. Berkeley—For, 427; against, 157; majority, 270. Alameda—For, 294; against, 129; majority, 165. Albany—For, 27; against, nothing. Ocean View—For, 5. Emeryville—For, 119; against, 47. San Leandro—For, 13; against, 157. Hayward—For, 17; against, 167. Mt. Eden—For, 7; against, 60. San Lorenzo—For, 73; against, 49. Castro Valley—For, 7; against, 25. Alvarado—For, 18; against, 11. Centerville—For, 23; against, 52. Decoto—For, 25; against, 10. Newark—For, 9; against, 29. Niles—For, 13; against, 59. Mission San Jose—For, 18; against, 2. Irvington—For, 16; against, 25. Warm Springs—For, 7; against, 19. Pleasanton—For, 19; against, 58. Amador—For, 5; against, 16. BOARD IN FAVOR.

There is no member of the Board of Supervisors who does not favor the construction of a new home for the accommodation of the wards of the county, although there is some difference of opinion between them as to the method which should be used for the purpose of raising the necessary money. These members are now in a quandary as to the old people, of whom they are in charge. They don't feel that they should, immediately, at least, call another election for the purpose of again submitting the proposition to the people, feeling that, regardless of any special campaign that might be made for the carrying of the proposition, defeat might be encountered. There seems to be an impression that the desired relief must be afforded by a tax levy because no person doubts the emergency which has arisen in connection with the infirmary.

NEED IS URGENT.

Supervisor Mullins says that the matter of relief must be decided speedily because of the deplorable condition in which the inmates of the infirmary find themselves. Supervisor Bridge is stoutly of the opinion that he will not vote to call another bond election, at least at the present, and states positively that when the matter comes up again, of building a new hospital for the county, his vote will be in favor of having that structure erected on the county farm near San Lorenzo.

PLOT UNCOVERED IN HAYDEN TRIAL

Plan to Embarrass Prosecution at Weaverville is Discovered.

WEAVERVILLE, June 7.—What appears to be a well designed plot to embarrass the prosecution in the Hayden trial developed yesterday in a series of threats against the prosecuting attorney, which were made by a person or persons who were made to District Attorney Horace Glyn by witnesses for the people, but he regarded them as mere rumors until yesterday, when open declarations were made by certain witnesses for the defense.

A witness placed on the stand by Dan Hall, attorney for the defense, to testify against the reputation of Harris Norgard, the slain man, was shown by the prosecution to have been convicted of a felony in the past. Another character witness admitted on the stand that he had not been sober since his arrival in Weaverville to attend the court sessions. Others, disregarding the court and the bailiff, declared from the witness stand their active animus against Chris Norgard, the Round Valley cattle king.

FIFTEEN THOUSAND PEOPLE GATHER IN HONOR OF CARDINAL GIBBONS

ASSEMBLY NOT DOMINATED BY CREED

Protestant and Catholic, Jew and Gentile Pay Primate
Tribute As a Man.

Concourse Voices Praise of Long and Useful Career of Prelate.

BALTIMORE, June 7.—Cardinal Gibbons was yesterday made the subject of eulogy in one of the most remarkable celebrations ever held in history. The occasion was the fiftieth anniversary of his entry into the church as priest and his twenty-fifth anniversary as primate, and it was taken advantage of by the great men of the nation to do honor to him as a man and citizen.

Fifteen thousand people came together in the Fifth regiment armory in this city, with 600 prominent men as invited guests sitting on the platform, more than a score of whom were senators and members of the House of Representatives. In the center of the stage sat the cardinal. To his right sat President Taft, former President Roosevelt and Chief Justice White. On the cardinal's left were Governor Crothers of Maryland, Ambassador Bryce of Great Britain, Speaker Clark and Representative Cannon. All of these notable men were speakers in honor of the cardinal, with the exception of Chief Justice White.

PRESIDENT'S SPEECH.

The purpose of the meeting was set forth by President Taft, who was the first speaker, following Governor Crothers of Maryland, who presided. The Chief Executive said in part:

"This assembly, I venture to say, can find few counterparts in history. We are not as Americans, but as citizens, congratulating the American primate of one of the great churches in the world on the twenty-fifth anniversary of his accession to the highest office in his church but one, and upon the fiftieth anniversary of his entering the church as one of its priests."

TRIBUTE TO VIRTUES.

"We are not here as members of any denomination. We are not here in any official capacity. But we are here to recognize and honor in him his high virtues as a patriotic member of our political community and one who, through his long and useful life, has spared no efforts in the cause of good citizenship and the uplifting of his fellow men."

FOR THE THIN AND SCRAWNY

Samose Will Make You Plump
and Rosy, Says Osgood
Bros., 7th and Broadway,
12th and Washington.

If you are getting thin you are sick, although you may not know it. If you are losing weight steadily, there is something wrong that needs looking after. If you have always been thin it doesn't follow that you are sick, but you may not be healthy. You cannot be strong if you are thin.

Try then to be healthy and plump. It is not difficult if you know how. The only way to increase the weight and gain health and flesh is by using Samose, the standard flesh-forming food and tissue-builder.

It mingles with the food you eat and is assimilated, so that the flesh-forming and tissue-building elements of the food are retained in the system. This explains the great value of Samose.

Weigh yourself before you begin using Samose. It will not cost you a cent unless it increases your weight and restores your health.

Osgood Bros., Seventh and Broadway, and Twelfth and Washington, sell every package on a genuine guarantee to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it.

Cardinal Urges Loyalty Noted Churchman Speaks

BALTIMORE, June 7.—Cardinal Gibbons' address at the civic celebration in honor of the fiftieth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood and the twenty-fifth anniversary of his elevation to the cardinalate follows:

I am filled with emotions of gratitude on this extraordinary manifestation on the part of my fellow citizens, without distinction of race or religion or creed, which have been pronounced by the President of the United States, the Vice-President, the former President, the speaker of the House of Representatives, the Governor of Maryland and the Mayor of Baltimore.

Godmen, you have portrayed your subject, not I fear, as he is, but as he should be. But your portrait is so attractive that it shall be my endeavor to resemble it more and more every day of the few years that remain to me. One merit only I can truly claim, and that is an ardent love for my native country and her political institutions. Ever since I entered the sacred ministry my aim has been to make those over whom I exerted any influence, not only more upright Christians, but also more loyal citizens. For this most faithful Christian makes the best citizen.

I consider the republic of the United States one of the most precious heirlooms ever bestowed on mankind down the ages, and that it is the duty, and should be the delight of every citizen to strengthen and perpetuate our government by the observance of its laws, and by the integrity of its private life. "Righteousness," says the book of Proverbs, "exalteth a nation but sin is a reproach to the people."

If our government is destined to be enduring, it must rest on the eternal principles of justice, truth and righteousness, and these principles must have for their sanction the recognition of the supreme being who created all things by His wisdom and whose superintending providence oversees the affairs of nations and of men.

When the framers of our immortal constitution were in session Benjamin Franklin complained to his colleagues of the small progress they had made after several weeks of deliberation. He used these memorable words: "We have spent many days in fruitless discussion. We have been groping in the dark because we have not sought light from the father of light to illumine our understanding." I have lived," he continued, "for many years and the longer I live the more convincing proofs I have that God governs the affairs of men. And if a sparrow cannot fall to the ground without His notice, is it probable that an entire nation can arise without His aid and co-operation?" We are told in the same sacred writings that "unless the Lord build the house, he laboreth in vain who buildeth it."

As well as presidents who are Protestants, and we will see presidents who are Jews as well as Gentiles. It should be the aim of every man who presides so to carry himself toward his fellow Americans who are not of his religion that some day when there is another president who is not of his religion, that man may treat him in the same fashion."

Senator Root then said in a few remarks:

ROOT'S REMARKS.

"Words, however eloquent, are but feeble in expressing the meaning of such an assemblage as this. The fact that not only the friends and neighbors of Baltimore, but that these representatives of all parts of our country; many of them of widely different religious belief, are here, show more than words the deep significance of this occasion."

"It means that American can do what was impossible to do in lands less free and ages less trained in humanity; it means that the doctrine of separation of church and state does not mean separation of the people from all religious belief. Cardinal Gibbons illustrates the union of service to the state and service to God. He is a bulwark against atheism and anarchy, a bulwark against the tearing down of morality and government, the foundation on which our country depends."

WISHES HIM PEACE.

Speaker Champ Clark then said: "The affection for Cardinal Gibbons is just as strong west of the great river as it is east. He has been a potent force for good among both Catholics and Protestants. No man ever served in either house of Congress, or in both, as long as he; no man ever served on the supreme bench that long; only one judge has ever served as long as Cardinal Gibbons; only one officer of the navy, and no officer of the army, has served that long. I wish him peace, prosperity and length of days."

No man ever served in either house of Congress, or in both, as long as he; no man ever served on the supreme bench that long; only one judge has ever served as long as Cardinal Gibbons; only one officer of the navy, and no officer of the army, has served that long. I wish him peace, prosperity and length of days."

Speaker Clark then said: "The affection for Cardinal Gibbons is just as strong west of the great river as it is east. He has been a potent force for good among both Catholics and Protestants. Up Country in Panama

That part of Chiriqui that lies between the mountains and the Pacific ocean is the garden spot of Panama. It contains the richest soil and has the finest scenery in the territory of the Republic, with a climate that is delightful. Few visitors to the Isthmus make the journey up to Chiriqui. Perhaps it is the discomfort of the voyage that deters them, but more probably they are ignorant of the pleasures that await them at the end of it.

The up country steamer leaves Panama on Friday, with an uncertain schedule, depending upon the particular ports for which it may receive freight, so the 292 miles between the capital and David may be covered in forty-eight hours, or six days—generally six days.

The vessel on this service is more like a houseboat than a ship, standing thirty feet on water and only six below, so that in the slightest sea it rolls like a tub, giving one the impression it would turn turtle in a heavy sea, but apart from the little discomfort of the trip this journey up to Chiriqui involves no actual hardship, and is well worth the trip.

David, the capital of the province, is an old town, with a settlement that dates back two centuries. The country thereabouts contains many fine estates, occupying large tracts of land that were granted to members of distinguished Spanish families by the crown.

Some day these Chiriqui properties will represent great wealth. At present they yield only a few thousand dollars a year from the sale of cattle raising upon them. The land owners of Chiriqui, like the old-time planters of our South, have long since fallen into confirmed habits of ease, which they could not shake off if they would. It must be left to another generation to apply enterprising methods to the development of their lands. With the opening of the canal and the settlement of the country by Americans a different story will soon be told.

'PHONES MOTHER OF SUICIDE INTENT

Fresno Man Bids Parent Good-
Bye Over Wire and Then Turns On the Gas.

FRESNO, Cal., June 7.—After bidding his mother goodbye over the telephone and telling her he was going to kill himself, William Atwater last night shut himself in his house, stuffed cotton in the keyhole and turned on the gas. When a neighbor returned to the house a few minutes later, Atwater refused to open the door, saying he would be dead in a few minutes. The neighbor notified Atwater's wife, and while she ran for the police, the man's mother ran to his house and battered in the door. When found, he was stretched out on the bed, unconscious. Jealousy is declared to have been the cause of the act.

THIEF HAS LIKING FOR FINE CLOTHES

Young Negress Is Accused of Stealing Gowns Worth
$60,000.

NEW YORK, June 7.—The police assert that as many as forty apartment houses in the fashionable upper west-side have been robbed of $60,000 worth of fine clothes during the last few months. Annie Carter, a young negress, is under arrest today and may be confronted by all the complainants, when she is given a hearing.

Detectives who have investigated, one theft after another found that in almost every case the thief had apparently avoided stealing jewelry which might have been taken. In one case, $17,000 worth of jewelry lying on the dresser in one of the rooms where gowns had been stolen were left untouched.
